About the Scholastic Art & Writing Awards and Best Teen Art 2022

Since 1923, the Scholastic Art & Writing Awards have recognized the vision, ingenuity, and talent of our nation's youth and provided opportunities for creative teens to be celebrated. Each year, thousands of teens participate in the program and become a part of our community—young artists and writers, filmmakers and photographers, poets and sculptors, illustrators and science fiction writers—along with countless educators who support and encourage the creative process. Notable Awards alumni include Tschabalala Self, Stephen King, Kay WalkingStick, Charles White, Joyce Carol Oates, Amanda Gorman, and Andy Warhol—to name just a few.

Our Mission

The Scholastic Art & Writing Awards are presented by the Alliance for Young Artists & Writers, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization whose mission is to identify students with exceptional artistic and literary talent and present their remarkable work to the world through the Awards. The Awards give students opportunities for recognition, exhibition, publication, and scholarships. During our 2022 program year, more than 100,000 students across the United States and Canada submitted more than 260,000 original works across 28 different categories of art and writing.

Our Publications

Our annual publications, Best Teen Art and Best Teen Writing, feature selected National Medal-winning work from the Awards. This year, an esteemed panel of writers and industry leaders awarded National Medals to nearly 1,800 works of art and writing. The selections for these publications represent the broad range of work that received National Medals from the perspective of grade, geography, genre, and subject matter. They also present a spectrum of the insight and creative intellect that inform many of the submitted pieces.

Visit artandwriting.org to view online galleries of all nationally awarded works of art and writing. There you can also learn how to enter the 2023 Awards and find ways to partner with the Alliance to support young artists and writers in your community.

Foreword

We are honored to share this collection of works that received National Medals in this year's Awards. Now more than ever, the bold, unique visions celebrated through this program inspire us and give us hope.

On behalf of the entire Awards family, we congratulate all of this year's Medalists. We would also like to acknowledge the extraordinary educators and supportive family members who have helped to nurture the voices and visions expressed in this work.

Presented for more than a quarter century by the Alliance for Young Artists & Writers, the Awards have grown to become the country's largest, longest-running, and most prestigious recognition program for creative teens. This is possible only because of our dedicated partners who present the Awards across North America; our expert jurors at both the regional and national levels; and our generous supporters. And of course, none of our programs would exist without the leadership of our Board of Directors and the passionate efforts of our exceptional staff. Despite the incredible challenges of the past several years, the Awards community has been resilient. We are grateful to these extraordinary individuals and institutions for all they do to support our shared mission.

Awards with Scholarships

Political commentaries and civic engagement. Climate change. Love and loss. Teens have a lot to say about life and the world around them. Every year, we partner with dedicated individuals, foundations, and corporations to offer creative scholarship opportunities to teen artists and writers whose experiences and ideas help shape the communities around them.

Gold and Silver Medal Awards

Students in grades 7–12 may submit works in seventeen art categories. This year, regional programs selected nearly 11,000 art submissions for Gold Keys, and these works were then adjudicated at the national level by artists, gallerists, curators, and educators. Gold and Silver Medals were awarded to works of art that demonstrated originality, technical skill, and emergence of a personal vision.

Bacteria,
bacteria,
found everywhere.

Sometimes, they can make us sick after eating food. Let us see what they can do, and how we can stop them.

E. coli

normally lives in our intestines as a commensal organism, but some strains are harmful.
